ABOUT CMP

Since the removal of fuel subsidy in May, 2023 and the economic hardship that accompany it, life have been difficult particularly for corps members. As a result, we have witnessed a drastic reduction in the rate of post-camp Training. This is aside the inability of corps members serving in rural communities to access Post-camp training facilities which are mostly concentrated in the urban centers. Even in the urban centers, Corps members have to shuttle between their primary assignments, CDS activities, personal chores & their training needs.

Also, some corps members have realized that the course they studied in school do not have so much opportunities for them and are considering the possibility of learning new skills and building an entirely new career path for themselves. These set of corps members needs a professional assistance to enable them choose a lucrative and sustainable career and access to a flexible and self-paced learning system tailored for their busy schedules as corps members.

To provide a relive for these Corps Members, Jomo Resource Center through the CMP initiative, is on a mission to assist 7,400 corps members annually to access the needed mentorship and training at a minimal cost. The goal is to groom a strong, efficient and reliable workforce and breed a set of entrepreneurs who will challenge the status quo across various industries. The program focus on delivering a set of training courses through the LMS that can be accessed from any part of the world with minimal internet connection. It is self-paced; trainees can take their classes any day and time as their schedules would allow them without the burden of attending a physical class. The courses are designed with Hands-On exercises, case studies assessments to enable Corps Members practice on their own.
